"The commercial software sales model depends on high maintenance fees, expensive upgrades, and vendor lock-in... Enterprises have learned from experience and are savvy. They've been burned too often by commercial software not delivering on its promises."

Eric Greis
Network World

"With Aras you get the most advanced enterprise software solutions on the market, and our optional subscription packages provide you with the professional enterprise support, security and reliability you need to achieve your goals and be successful."

Peter Schroer
President, Aras
